Thank you for taking an interest in working with Project REACH as a peer mentor! Peer mentors have the unique opportunity to support first-year students as they become accustomed to college life. The qualifications are:

- Demonstrated professionalism and excellent work ethic
- Desire to develop leadership and interpersonal skills
- Motivated to assist first-year students successfully make the transition to college
- Utilize effective listening and communication skills
- Willingness to encourage participation in Project REACH and campus activities
- Ability to work approximately 4-8 hours per week for the fall semester
- Project REACH students preferred

Peer mentors learn effective mentoring skills by participating in training and regularly scheduled meetings. The responsibilities include the following:

- Serve as a liaison between your mentees and staff
- Educate students about Project REACH and campus resources
- Plan activities designed to forge a relationship between you and your mentees
- Encourage academic involvement and provide support for your mentees
- Serve as a role model

The Peer mentor positions are paid positions; they are not work-study positions. If you would like to share your knowledge with other students and assist them in becoming successful college students, we encourage you to consider this opportunity.
